Kyle Dimler is the Building Official for the City of Hutchinson, Minnesota. Kyle has been with the City for nine years.

Prior to transitioning to a career in Code administration, Kyle worked in the residential and light-commercial construction industry for eight years. Kyle's educational background in both Business Administration and in Carpentry provides a balanced and beneficial foundation for applying both the practical and the administrative facets of Code administration.

Kyle holds a certification as a Minnesota Certified Building Official and has an additional 12 professional certifications through the International Code Council. Kyle strongly believes in promoting and advancing the Code administration professions. He is excited to be a part of AMBO's continuing success in representing Code officials across Minnesota.
